Dishy Dog is a Colorado-based company that creates and sells stylish and functional pet products.

Joe Casanova, owner of Dishy Dog, found out about ExpandOS through its website when he was looking for a more protective way to package his Dishy Dog acrylic dog feeders. Utilizing the packaging expertise of the Vertex IPS sales team, Joe was able to find a solution to his shipping concerns: ensuring the feeders arrived intact without incurring higher shipping and handling costs. The ExpandOS product gave Joe peace of mind when shipping his feeders across the United States, regardless of which shipping carrier he chose.

Joe started shipping about 15 boxes a month for the first six months he used ExpandOS. He now can focus on growing his business rather than worrying about the safe arrival of his products. Best of all, the relationship between Dishy Dog and Vertex IPS, the makers of ExpandOS, is an ideal fit, as two Colorado companies are helping each other succeed.
